

University of Ghana

College of Basic and Applied Sciences Research Board

Template for board members profile for the web portal

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Name: SAMUEL ADDO
Nationality: GHANAIAN
Phone (Optional): 0554113076
e-mail: samaddo@ug.edu.gh

ACADEMIC BACKGROUND

Dr. Samuel Addo has a PhD in Fisheries and Aquaculture from the School of Fisheries, Aquaculture and Aquatic Sciences, Auburn University, USA. He has some research experience in fish health, shell and finfish production, marine, freshwater and brackish water fisheries, hydrobiology and environmental impact assessment. He has been involved in project design, fieldwork, and report preparations for both local and international organizations. Dr. Addo has also participated in some local and international scientific studies from different environments. He is currently the Chairman of the National Committee on Aquaculture, Ghana and the Head of Department of Marine and Fisheries Sciences, University of Ghana, Legon, Accra.

RESEARCH INTEREST

Fisheries and Aquaculture

AREA OF SPECIALIZATION

Aquaculture

ON-GOING RESEARCH PROJECTS:

Aetiology of the rusty brown spots on pond-cultured Nile tilapia in Ghana
Production of fingerlings of the African catfish using artificial and semi-artificial methods
Heavy metal contamination of fresh and processed European Anchovy from the coastal waters of Ghana

OTHER RESEARCH RELATED ACTIVITIES

Training on efficient handling, processing and packaging of fish for fish processors and traders

FAO GCP/RAF/510/MUL: Enhancing capacity/risk reduction of emerging tilapia lake virus (TiLV) to african tilapia aquaculture